Alphabetical order
As of December 10, 2007

The introduction of drug-eluting stents (DES) in percutaneous coronary intervention (PCI) has clearly been a very significant development in the treatment of ischemic heart disease. A large proportion of patients previously indicated for bypass surgery, such as some left-main disease patients and patients with triple-vessel disease or other complex lesion types, are now being successfully treated using the minimally-invasive techniques permitted by PCI. This is not of course to say that CTOs and bifurcation lesions at least can always be vanquished by DES alone or that major issues pertaining only to DES such as late stent-thrombosis do not remain, but despite these issues, few people doubt that PCI will continue to develop and evolve with DES playing a key and central role.

Since its inception the CCT (Coronary) has seen as its principal challenge the development of PCI for complex lesion subsets (such as CTOs, triple-vessel disease and left-main disease). CCT2008 will remain faithful to this policy to ensure that we continue to extract the maximum benefit from DES. But as will be apparent from the theme of this year's meeting, "Beyond DES", relying on drug-eluting stents alone is not enough. We need to ensure we continue to look for and identify the best possible and most up-to-date PCI treatments for our complex lesion patients.

As in recent years the official language of the meeting will be English so as to facilitate real and lively discussion and debate between both our home-grown Japanese and overseas participants, while the inclusion in the program once more of truly "world-class" live case transmission courses with cases from a number of countries in Asia, and from Europe and the US will, we hope, continue the CCT's proud tradition of exploring and identifying new state-of-the-art global standards for PCI.

Another feature of CCT2008 will be the continuing attention paid not just to PCI for ischemic heart disease but to intervention in the carotid and peripheral vessels. We also demonstrate our commitment to our Electrophysiology and Surgical courses by making both bigger and better than before. Our CCT Peripheral Course will feature live case transmissions from Kansai Rosai Hospital and Kobe City General Hospital, and aims to provide a forum for debate and discussion about peripheral intervention for complex lesions, which have come to be synonymous with the CCT itself. In addition to the live course, the program will also feature a full complement of morning symposia, luncheon seminars and fireside sessions encompassing the latest developments in Peripheral Intervention.

CCT2008 will be the largest international cardiology meeting ever to take place in Asia. This fact fills us with a sense of pride and also of responsibility. We are determined to make this a meeting where meaningful international exchange is readily possible, thus every attendee can communicate freely and easily to exchange ideas and experiences. In this way, we hope that CCT2008 will make its own contribution to the further development of the vital clinical therapies leading the world-wide fight against ischemic heart disease and the other cardiovascular diseases.

Special activities

EVAR (Endovascular aortic aneurysm repair) for cardiologist – Aortic Stent-Graft Symposium –

with EVT Video Case Transmission

Friday, Feb. 1 14:00-18:00 Endovascular Theater

Aortic stent graft has been covered by Japan's National Health Insurance from 2007. We plan to show a video to introduce this technique in a case done at Osaka University. There will also be a large number of International and Japanese Faculty members attending CCT2008 who are familiar with the device and with the procedure. We are sure that participants will be able to acquire a strong clinical grounding in EVAR, including the specifics of the procedure as well as the latest medical opinions and data regarding the technique.

CTO Course – Retrograde Approach –

Saturday, Feb. 2 13:30-16:30 Main Theater

Our CTO Course directed by Osamu Kato will be held in the afternoon of Saturday and will feature live transmissions of CTO cases as well as lectures by some world-wide experts on the topic. The program for CCT2006 included two very popular training courses (a CTO course and a CART course) featuring a number of practical cases showcasing a wide-range of techniques. At this year's meeting the CTO Course will include lectures on recent developments in strategy, tricks and top tips for this complex lesion type. There will also be live-case transmissions from the Toyohashi Heart Center, and we expect this course to see heated discussion and debate on the technique required for CTOs, enabling participants to take the most possible benefit.

Meet the Experts – Case Review Sessions –

First held at CCT2006, the session is back in 2008 with an improved, more comprehensive program. Carefully-selected international expert in the chosen fields will give the benefit of their first-hand and state-of-the-art expertise on the "hot" topics of the day through thought-provoking case studies and brand new data. These 90 minute sessions will be bursting with up-to-the-minute insights enabling participants to bring the latest expertise to their own immediate clinical practice.

Case Competition 2008

The organizing committee of CCT2008 will select the best cases from all those submitted.

The winners will receive an award during the Award Ceremony (Saturday, Feb. 2, in the Main Theater from 12:15pm)

➤ See p. 35

Promotion Bureau

These sessions will be industry-sponsored educational workshops. Special lectures on individual company products and specific topics will be provided. There is a chance to handle the products and discuss any aspect of their use. We look forward to seeing you there.

➤ See p. 30

One-point Lessons

For these sessions, we have selected topics designed to be useful in the daily practice of PCI. The Main/Master live-case transmissions will feature short 3-minute video-messages showcasing experts' personal experience from their own eye-opening cases. These video-messages will be played continuously on a loop in the "Drinks Corner" refreshment area.

DVD copies of the videos will also be available for purchase during the meeting. Participants may order copies at the reservation desk near Registration desk.

Educational Course

Job fair for Japanese cardiologists

Thursday, Jan. 31 18:15-20:30 Room 3
(only available in Japanese)

Our Job Fair will be in two parts. In part 1, Japanese physicians with experience of living and working overseas will describe their experience of overseas institutions and offer advice on how to obtain overseas positions. In part 2, physicians from Japan's leading and most-productive PCI centers will offer advice on how to go about advancing medical research projects. This course is a must for young physicians who want to understand the PCI "market".

➤ See p. 33

EVT Educational Course

Friday, Feb. 1 9:00-12:30 Hall A-2 (E)
(Japanese to English interpretation available)

This new educational course is offered under the auspices of the Peripheral Faculty, and its core case-based lectures will give participants insights into strategies for tackling peripheral artery disease. Course content will cover everything from indications for EVT, puncture-site selection and wire selection to advice on device-handling and advanced tips and tricks, giving participants a comprehensive grounding in the field.

➤ See p. 33

PCI Residents Course

Saturday, Feb. 2 8:30-12:30 Room 1
(only available in Japanese)

For the first time the CCT offers this course for Japanese cardiologists and interventionists ready to make a great stride in their personal professional development. The aim of the course will be to cover the full range of skills required to work successfully in PCI today – everything from how to do basic coronary angiography and how to interpret angiographic images, both theory and practice, to the importance and use of statistics and how to write medical papers.

Room: PCI Hands-on Center

Courses

During CCT2008, the CCT will offer hands-on training for doctors and co-medical staffs in a virtual-reality simulation program.

This program, consisting of 2 different courses, will provide the participants with the opportunity to train on various interventional situations and procedures in the virtual settings under the guidance of selected experts from the field of PCI.

We have both courses for doctors and co-medical staffs this year. The experience gained from these courses will improve participants' knowledge, skills and expertise.

For schedule and course description, please refer to the following.

2D model Course

Sponsored by Abbott Vascular Japan Co., Ltd. / Volcano Japan Co., Ltd.

A mimic model of coronary artery will be projected through a CCD camera. Experts will perform and instruct trainees by using the real PCI devices.

Medical Optimal Stenting with IVUS used

Experts will demonstrate the optimal stenting by using Volcano's IVUS after their mini-lecture.

Co-medical PCI Basic knowledge

Participants will learn a chain of PCI maneuvers from operating by guide wire to stenting after the demonstration by the experts.

TRI Simulator Course

Sponsored by TERUMO CORPORATION

Participants will learn all processes of TRI maneuvers by seeing the simulated images and 3D anatomy on the simulator screen.

Medical

1. Introduction of TRI Simulator course, - 5 min.
2. TRI mini-lecture, - 25 min.
3. Virtual training, - 90 min.

Co-medical

1. Introduction of TRI Simulator course, - 5 min.
2. TRI mini-lecture, - 10 min.

How to Register

Pre-registration is required for these sessions. Please visit CCT2008 website and go to "PCI Hands-on Center" or "Echo Hands-on Center" (only available in Japanese). Please read the instruction carefully and click "Register now" button to download the application form.

After printing out and filling in the form, fax it to CCT Secretariat (+81-532-52-2883). Once your application is accepted, we will send a "Notification of Acceptance" to you, so please do not forget to write down your fax number on the application form.

We do not have a deadline for registration. However, the capacity for each session is limited, and we will be accepting applications on a first-come, first-served basis.
